About University

Established in 1990, the Yerevan Haybusak University is among the prominent medical schools in Armenia. The university now has 6000 alumni, 5400 undergraduates, 300 educators. The college was given state accreditation in 2001.

The University has wide international relations with cultural-educational organizations and foreign Higher Educational Institutions. Together with the Armenian Open University and the International Relations Institute, Yerevan Haybusak University built up the International Academy of Education (IAE) in 2007. Yerevan "Haybusak" University was founded by academician Levon Harutyunyan in 1991. It had three faculties which offered studies in Medicine, Economics and Food Technology. Currently Yerevan "Haybusak" University is the biggest non-state educational institution which provides study programs in higher and vocational professional education. It prepares high-quality professionals in specialties at the levels of higher and vocational education.
